HAS LOST HIS COMMAND

GENERAL BULLER REAPS THE CONSEQUENCES OF HIS RE-CENT SPEECH.

TRIED TO BREAK HIS FALL

Government Gave Him the Option of Resigning But He Declined to Give Way—Is Placed on Half Pay and General French Appointed to Succeed Him—The Affair Causes a Sensation.

London, Oct. 23.—Sir Redvers Buller has been relieved of the command of the First army corps in consequence of the speech he made Oct. 1, after the luncheon given in his honor by the Kings Royal Rifles, dealing with his famous dispatch to General White at Ladysmith. He has been placed on half pay and General French has been appointed to succeed him.

In the official announcement the war office says that the commander-in-chief, "after full consideration of all the circumstances and the explanations furnished," recommended that General Buller be relieved, which has been done.

The appointment of General French is to take effect "when his services are no longer required in South Africa." Pending General French's return General Hildyard will command at Aldershot.

General Buller's supersession was not unexpected, but the manner of it has caused a sensation. It is understood that the government endeavored to break the fall by giving him the option of resigning, but that Buller declined to give way.

The morning papers all express sympathy for the unfortunate ending of a brilliant career; but they are unanimous that no other course was open after his indiscreet speech and they express the greatest approval of the selection of General French to succeed him.

The Daily Chronicle and The Daily News attack the government for weakness and lack of courage in ever appointing General Buller to the command of an army corps.

The Times, confirming the report that General Buller preferred dismissal to resignation, expresses astonishment at his "amazing defects of judgment and sense of military discipline," and says it hopes the change is the beginning of an era of real army reform.

PREPARING FOR TROUBLE.

Filipinos Say They Will Take the Field in January.

Manila, Oct. 23.—General Chaffee does not expect to hear of any extensive engagement in the island of Samar. He believes the operations there will not result in an open flight. It is hard to find armed Filipinos, but every man without occupation will be compelled to go into a town.

It is reported that all the rifles captured by the Filipinos at Balangaza are now in the island of Leyte, where many bolomen are known to have gone from the island of Samar. In fact Leyte is as disturbed as Samar.

The object of the reinforcement of American troops now being pushed forward is to increase all the garrisons to 38 men. Some of them have until recently numbered only eight men. The reinforcements will also allow the detailing of a working force to operate in the field, hunting for insurgents.

A CIVILIAN TESTIFIES

STORY OF THE CUBAN CAMPAIGN TOLD BY CORRESPONDENT GRAHAM.

SAYS COMMODORE WAS COOL

Witness Saw None of the Alleged Traces of Anxiety and Excitement. Lieutenant Simpson Gives a Vivid Description of the Battle of July 3 and the Part Played in It by the Brooklyn—Other Witnesses Testify.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The Schley court of inquiry opened with Lieutenant B. W. Wells, Jr., who was Commodore Schley's flag lieutenant during the Spanish war, still on the stand, but he was soon displaced to allow Yeoman Albert V. Mason, who had written the Brooklyn's log for the period covering the Santiago campaign, to testify. Mr. Mason explained the erasures in the log entry referring to the Brooklyn's turn on the day of the battle off Santiago. He was followed by Mr. George E. Graham, who, as an Associated Press correspondent, was with Commodore Schley during the entire campaign. Mr. Graham's testimony covered all the principal events of the campaign and discussed especially the bombardment of the Spanish ship Colon on May 31 and the battle off Santiago on July 3. Mr. Graham testified to hearing a conversation between Commodore Schley and Captain Sigbee when the latter came aboard the flagship Brooklyn off Santiago May 26. He said he had distinctly heard Captain Sigbee tell the commodore that the Spanish fleet was not inside the harbor at Santiago. Mr. Graham also stated that Admiral Schley had told him that the object of the bombardment of May 31 was to develop the Spanish land batteries, and he said that the range was fixed at 7,000 or 7,500 yards, in order to draw their fire. He further said, with reference to the events of this engagement, that he had heard no conversation in which Commodore Schley had said that the officers in their white uniforms were conspicuous objects. Mr. Graham detailed a conversation between Commodore Schley and Captain Robley D. Evans, which took place after the Santiago engagement. There was some discussion over the admissibility of this statement, but the court decided that any conversation between the commodore and any one else bearing upon the case was admissible.

No Written Orders of Battle.

The examination of Lieutenant Wells was conducted by Captain Lemly. The witness said there had been no written or printed order of battle, but that on the day before Cienfuegos was reached some special instructions were sent to the ships by the Scorpion.

The next witness was Albert V. Mason. He was the writer of the Brooklyn's log during the Cuban campaign. Regarding the change in the account of the battle off Santiago he said the log had been changed at the instance of Lieutenant Hodgson.

George Edward Graham, the Associated Press correspondent, was then called. He recounted the conversation between Commodore Schley and Captain Sigbee on May 26. In reply to Schley's question "Have we got them, Sigbee?" Captain Sigbee said: "No, they are not here. I have been here for a week and they are not here." The captain said he had been in very close and Captain Cotton had been in and cut a cable and he was positive the Spanish fleet was not there.

Mr. Graham was aboard the Massachusetts during the bombardment of the Colon on May 31. He was with the commodore all of the time during the reconnaissance and did not hear any of the alleged conversations between the commodore and Higginson and Potts. He also said he did not hear Schley say anything about "potting the Colon."

Describing the battle of July 2 Mr. Graham said that Commodore Schley had gotten to a position in front of the conning tower as soon as the nose of the first Spanish ship appeared.

Continuing the witness said that by the time Brooklyn completed her turn (and he thought the turn had been continuously to the right) the three leading Spanish ships had emerged from the harbor.

Schley Was Absolutely Cool. He said the commodore stood all the time on the side of the fire so that he could see what was going on. He was absolutely cool and sent continuous messages to the men to cheer them up. When Ellis' head was shot off he wiped some of the blood from his own person and as the men picked the body up to throw it overboard, when the rest stood horrified, he calmly said: "Don't throw that body over. Take it below and we will give it Christian burial." When the Viscaya went ashore the commodore went into the conning tower and himself called down the tube to the men below: "They are all gone but one. It all depends on you, boys."

The witness said the commodore was jovial and good natured at all times and that the only trace of anxiety or excitement he ever saw on his face was when it looked as if the Colon might get away.

Dennis J. Cronin, orderly to Commodore Schley, corroborated Mr. Graham's testimony regarding the conversation between the commodore and Captain Sigbee May 26.

Lieutenant Commander Rush, watch and division officer of the Brooklyn, described the Brooklyn's "loop" and thought it a necessary movement. He was also inclined to think the Viscaya meant to ram the Brooklyn, and said that the Spanish ships did not come out to exceed three-quarters of a mile from the mouth of the harbor.

Lieutenant Commander Rush was succeeded on the stand by Lieutenant Edward Simpson, who was also a watch officer on the Brooklyn. He told the story of the campaign from the start from Key West to the battle of July 3.

Fired the First Gun.

Lieutenant Simpson had occupied a position forward when the battle of July 3 began, and he fired the first gun.

The range was given at 3,500 yards, and the Maria Teresa was right in line. The least range he had heard was 1,400 yards. He was unable to testify concerning the loop because he had to repair his guns.

After the turn he said that he had again picked up the forward Spanish ship, which was still the Maria Teresa. He could hear the smaller shots, indicating close range, and during the entire time he had heard Commodore Schley's voice frequently cheering the men. Again, when he saw the Viscaya's fire slackened, he heard the commodore give the order "fire deliberately, boys." He had at that time observed the Viscaya turn toward the Brooklyn, but she had received a shot which turned her to the shore. At this point the witness described the coming up of the Oregon.

"It was after the Maria Teresa had dropped astern and we had only two ships to contend with, I got the cry that one of the Spanish ships was on fire and heading for the beach. I tried to see her. I looked back and could see nothing for the smoke. Then I heard the cry very shortly afterwards, 'another one is on fire, heading for the beach.' Between shots I looked back again and saw a bow wave coming from the smoke, followed almost immediately by two 13-inch guns. It was the Oregon. She was then about off our starboard quarter, I should say 600 yards. I called to the men that the Oregon was with us, got a cheer in reply and then the action continued. The Oregon firing also. As the Viscaya turned and headed off the Oregon fired one of her big guns. I heard the commodore say: 'He has raked her and she is on fire. Signal to the Oregon to cease firing,' and through the peep holes of my hood I saw Lieutenant McCauley climb on top of my turret with the wig-wag flag, and I could see the flapping of the flag. As soon as the Viscaya turned in we ceased firing on her, and all were allowed to come out of the turrets for a breathing spell."

The Chase of the Colon.

"The Colon was in the neighborhood of, roughly speaking, six miles ahead of us. She continued to gain but later we held her. The Oregon came along with us and got pretty near up abeam. Then as our steam came up our speed increased. We still held her and finally commenced gaining on her and the Oregon. Nine thousand yards was the elevation of my forward guns. I was ordered occasionally to try a shot at the Colon simply for range."

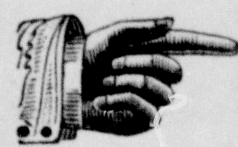

"We would try a shot at her, and it would fall short. Then the Oregon would try a shot, and there was wig-wagging going on between the vessels as to the results of the fall of the two shots. Finally, my range decreasing, and firing not at will, but by order, I was told to try again. I tried at the Colon at 6,800 yards, and I saw the splash of my projectile on the other side of her. I jumped out of the turret to ask permission to fire another shot immediately at 6,700 yards. Before they gave me permission, or I had a chance to do it, the Oregon fired one of her 13-inch guns and that also went over her. Then the Colon turned in, ran to the beach, and her flag came down. We kept on steaming in toward her. As we steamed in toward her, I heard one of the quartermasters say, 'They are jumping overboard.' I saw splashes alongside and thought that they were. But it probably was what we afterward heard to be breech-blocks. Captain Cook left the ship after some difficulty in getting out a boat and went to the Colon to receive her surrender."

Encouraged Officers and Men.

In reply to a question, Lieutenant Simpson said he had seen Commodore Schley several times during the engagement of July 3, but he remembered him especially as he stood when the Viscaya went ashore. "He was," said the witness, "leaning against the turret in the most natural possible position, holding his glasses in his arms. His deportment and bearing was that of a brave man; self-possessed, alert to his duties and encouraging to officers and men to do their duty."

On cross-examination Lieutenant Simpson said that at Cienfuegos the blockade line had been three or four miles out in the day and further out at night.

Lieutenant Edward P. Fitzgerald, who was an assistant engineer on the Brooklyn during the battle off Santiago, was then called to the stand. He said that he was in the fire room during the battle and that there were several orders. One of these given at the beginning of the engagement was to "stand by for a ram or collision quarters." The witness was not questioned on other points, nor cross-examined. When he left the stand the court adjourned for the day.

OLD NO. ONE IN SOFT DRINK THROES.

But City Authorities Look Askance and Notify Mr.
Dulude Accordingly.

NO BOOZE CAN BE SOLD THERE.

The Owner of the Building Has
Also Been Notified That
He is Responsible.

Although Sam Delude's application for a liquor license was turned down by the city council at the first regular meeting of this month, and although one G. Beecher appeared before the council Monday evening and made application for a license to run a saloon at the corner of Laurel and Fifth streets, the same location that Delude was intending to run a saloon, and his request was turned down also, old No. 1 was opened up for business yesterday morning and Sam Delude was at the helm.

The city authorities were at once attracted by this move on the part of Delude, and Mayor Halsted instructed Chief of Police Nelson and City Attorney Crowell to serve notice on Mr. Delude that the first time that it was ascertained that he was selling liquor he would be pulled and convicted. He claimed that he was going to run a temperance saloon, but the authorities have grave doubts that a temperance saloon would be a paying proposition at that corner.

Again this morning Mayor Halsted to be sure that there would be no mistake about the matter had Chief Nelson notify J. M. Gray, the owner of the building, that he would be held personally responsible as well as Mr. Delude for what might be sold in the building. Thus the matter stands. Mr. Delude and Mr.
Beecher both came from Aitkin.

Teaches the Indian Children to Become Too Dependent on the Government
In Educational Pursuits.

Commissioner of Indian affairs
Jones has called upon President Roosevelt to talk over matters pertaining to the Indians of the west.

The president told Mr. Jones that he wanted his ideas about Indian matters before he wrote his message.
Not having a sufficient amount of time to discuss the question yesterday he asked the commissioner to call again as soon as he returned and that he would also submit his portion of the message pertaining to Indian affairs to him for consideration before it was sent to congress.

A short time ago Colonel Pratt, superintendent of the Carlisle Indian school, wrote a letter to the president, in which he stated that he did not think it good policy for them to erect buildings at the various Indian schools on a permanent basis, as he thinks the idea of maintaining these schools should be a vanishing one.

Commissioner Jones is of the same opinion, and will so inform the president. He thinks that it was very unfortunate that the government should have ever commenced taking care of the Indians except in cases provided by treaty. He says:

"The Indian children should be furnished with free schooling in the manner as is provided for white children, but there is no reason why the government should appropriate millions of dollars each year for the Indians when it simply spoils them.
It teaches the Indian children to depend upon the government instead of learning to take care of themselves.

"The Indians look to the government for support just as a small child depends upon its parents. They are simply the wards of the government. They will continue to be as long as the government provides.

"In many of the sections where the Indians live it is impossible for them to make a living upon 160 acres of land, the amount allotted. For these the law should be regulated to suit the case. I think that if proper laws are enacted within the next few years the Indian will soon be to taking care of himself and children.

"If the present condition continues the government will continue to appropriate from ten to twenty million dollars a year for generations to come for the maintenance of the Indian."

WHITE-WEBBER.

Nuptials Occurred Last Night At the Home of the Bride's Parents
in St. Paul.

The following from the St. Paul Globe will be of interest to Brainerd friends of Mr. Frank White:

The marriage of Miss Lulu May Webber to Frank A. White took place last evening at the home of the bride's mother, 1729 Minnehaha avenue, Rev. G. M. Morrison of Plymouth Congregational church, officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Cox, and N. P. White was the groom's best man. The ribbon bearer was Helen Sheperdson. The floral decorations were red in the dining room, in the first parlor pink and in the library, where the ceremony was performed, bride's roses and ferns. The bride was gown in crepe de chine over silk, with point de terre and chiffon trimmings. The bridesmaid wore a gown of Paris muslin. A reception was held after the ceremony, at which Mrs. Webber was assisted in receiving by W. W.
and H. A. Webber. Mr. and Mrs.
White will be at home after Nov. 15, at Euclid View.

FOREST FIRE.

Said to be Raging in the Neighborhood of Pierz, Morrison County. Causing Considerable Damage.

William Driver is in the city today from Pierz, Morrison county, and reports an extensive forest fire raging in that section of the state, says the St. Cloud Times. According to Mr. Driver, who has been living about seven miles east of Pierz, a fire broke out in the woods near his home about noon yesterday. It spread rapidly and his house and barns were soon in ruins.

By prompt work he was able to save all his stock, consisting of cattle, cows, calves, horses and pigs, with the exception of one porker which was burned. He lost in addition to his buildings all of his hay and winter's feed. The fire raged all night and was still burning when he left there at 3 o'clock this morning. A strip four miles to the east of his place and about the same distance to the south had been burned over.
There are a number of settlers living in the neighborhood and Mr. Driver feels certain that most of them have lost their buildings and hay if not their stock. In his immediate vicinity 100 tons of hay was destroyed.
The fire is supposed to have been set by hunters, who had stopped to cook their noon day meal. The territory now ablaze has been burned over once or twice since the Hincley fire and the timber is all dead, and as dry as cinder.

KATRINE.

The lumber hauling from the mill to Deerwood has commenced.

Mr. Chas. Conzit, of Minneapolis, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Archibald.

The young people will meet Friday evening to reorganize the Epworth League.

Master Harry and Dean Wilson, of Brainerd, visited Chas. Coleman, and together they interviewed the partridges and squirrels.

While at L. H. Scofield's last Friday we sampled some honey from his apiary. We have a clinging dear-ness for honey, but a separated desire for bees.

Mr. Archibald Desant and family, who have been living on the farm of old Mr. Erath, have moved to Deer-wood, and the old soldier is on guard alone again.

Several sign boards reading "No thoroughfare" are posted at North Bay. As yet no toll gate has been established, and you can get to the postoffice or The Archibald by taking the cow path.

The lumber camp at South Bay is being refitted. There is some uncut pine to go in this winter that will require a small crew. Owing to the prevalence of smallpox lumber camps are not a very desirable factor in a community.

The death of Rev. Archibald Speers, as recorded in THE DISPATCH, brings to many in this section kind remembrance of this faithful worker in Christ's vineyard. Some fourteen years ago, with his little white ponies he drove up to the door of our home, the first to greet us here as a minister of the gospel. Year after year, o'er hill and dale, in sunshine and shadow, or in deep pine forest by the moon's pale light he sowed the seeds of promise, and from his sowing many a golden sheaf garnered in awaited his coming.

her bicycle on an errand for her mother she came into accidental collision with a horse and buggy that was passing the place, and was thrown down and run over. Concussion of the brain resulted from a blow on the head, inflicted in some manner not precisely known, but probably by a fall upon the ground. The child lingered, steadily declining, till midnight, when she died.

"Mrs. Berry had been with a friend at a nearby store at which they both made a purchase. In some manner they exchanged packages. Upon discovering the error, after her return home, Mrs. Berry called her little daughter, and told her to take back to the other lady the package that had been brought home by mistake, and get the right one in its stead. She had discharged this errand so far as to be within half a block of her home on her return, when the accident happened.

"There were two vehicles at or near the place at the time. It appears that the child became confused in her efforts to dodge them all, and so came against the one that struck her. The driver of this vehicle, a German farmer living north of the city, stopped at once and joined the people who had gathered in looking after the child. The man was undoubtedly wholly innocent of any intention to be careless, and was deeply affected by what had happened.

"The bystanders carried the little one into the house, and Dr. Hender was called. It was not possible to accurately judge of her condition at the time, and when the child seemed to fall asleep it was thought that she was under the influence of medicine that had been given her. Near midnight it was discovered that she was very low, and evidently failing fast.
Doctors were hastily called, the mother hurrying after one while the father went for another, but when they returned to their home their daughter was dead. They were overcome by the shock.

"The little girl so suddenly removed from a home in which she was the only child, was 10 years of age last December. She was bright and interesting, and a favorite in the neighborhood, and the very light of the home. The stricken parents exonerate the man who participated in the fatal collision, seeing that the event was one of those street accidents that happen with the best of intentions.
"Mr. Berry and his family came here seven months ago from Milwaukee.
They are comparative strangers in the city, and yet they have gathered about them a number of friends who have done what they could to soften the blow to them.

"At half past 2 o'clock this afternoon a short service will be held at the home, conducted by Rev. N. S.
Stevens, of Grace cathedral. Monday morning the train will be taken for Milwaukee, where the relatives and friends of the family live, and the final services of burial will be held there.

"Mrs. Berry, the mother of the little girl, is in frail health, and this great loss has had a visibly depressing effect upon her, arousing alarm in her own case. Her mother is with her, and everything will be done for her that can be suggested."

Division of Diocese.

The San Francisco Chronicle brings up the division of the diocese of Minnesota in its reports of the general convention. It states that at present the diocese is composed of the southern half of the state, containing over three-fourths of the state's population. It has about 125 church organizations and churches. Faribault has been the seat of the Episcopal residence ever since the late Bishop Whipple went to that state, where he laid the corner stone of the first cathedral in the United States.
During the life of Bishop Whipple the division of the diocese was hardly possible, as he did not favor such a suggestion, and no one cared to oppose his wishes.

Now, however, the Chronicle says, the division is being agitated, and some of the delegates say that it will be brought up in Boston in 1904.
The proposed division will give each new diocese about forty-five well established churches with room for growth. Each diocese will have a large city as the seat of the Episcopal residence.

He is looking over the district to see

The Story Re-Enacted in the Logan

Lincoln, Ills., Oct. 23.—A modern he had stolen some horses, for which crime his friend Andrew Carmody had session of the grand jury in November in order that King might be indicted.

When this is done and King pleads

OLD NO. ONE IN SOFT DRINK THROES.

ance and Notify Mr.
Dulude Accordingly.

NO BOOZE CAN BE SOLD THERE.

Also Been Notified That
He is Responsible.

Although Sam Delude's applica-
regular meeting of this month, and
although one G. Beecher appeared before the council Monday evening
run a saloon at the corner of Laurel
and Fifth streets, the same location
that Delude was intending to run a
down also, old No. 1 was opened up for business yesterday morning
and Sam Delude was at the helm.

The city authorities were at once
of Delude, and Mayor Halsted instructed Chief of Police Nelson and
City Attorney Crowell to serve notice
on Mr. Delude that the first time
selling liquor he would be pulled and
going to run a temperance saloon,
but the authorities have grave doubts
paying proposition at that corner.

sted to be sure that there would be no mistake about the matter had
be held personally responsible as well as Mr. Delude for what might be sold in the building. Thus the matter stands. Mr. Delude and Mr.
Beecher both came from Aitkin.

Too Dependent on the Government
In Educational Pursuits.

Commissioner of Indian affairs
Jones has called upon President Roosevelt to talk over matters pertaining to the Indians of the west.

The president told Mr. Jones that he wanted his ideas about Indian
matters before he wrote his message.
Not having a sufficient amount of
time to discuss the question yesterday he asked the commissioner to
that he would also submit his portion
affairs to him for consideration before it was sent to congress.

A short time ago Colonel Pratt,
superintendent of the Carlisle Indian
school, wrote a letter to the presi-
erect buildings at the various Indian
schools on a permanent basis, as he
schools should be a vanishing one.

Commissioner Jones is of the same
opinion, and will so inform the president. He thinks that it was very
should have ever commenced taking
care of the Indians except in cases
provided by treaty. He says:

"The Indian children should be
furnished with free schooling in the manner as is provided for white
children, but there is no reason why
millions of dollars each year for the Indians when it simply spoils them.
It teaches the Indian children to depend upon the government instead
of learning to take care of themselves.

"The Indians look to the govern-
are simply the wards of the government. They will continue to be as long as the government provides.

the Indians live it is impossible for
of land, the amount allotted. For
laws are enacted within the next few years the Indian will soon be to taking care of himself and children.

"If the present condition continues the government will continue
to come for the maintenance of the Indian."

Nuptials Occurred Last Night At the Home
of the Bride's Parents
in St. Paul.

The following from the St. Paul
Globe will be of interest to Brainerd
friends of Mr. Frank White:

The marriage of Miss Lulu May Webber to Frank A. White took place last evening at the home of the bride's mother, 1729 Minnehaha avenue, Rev. G. M. Morrison of Plymouth Congregational church, officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Cox, and N. P. White was
the groom's best man. The ribbon bearer was Helen Shepardson. The floral decorations were red in the dining room, in the first parlor pink and in the library, where the ceremony was performed, bride's roses and ferns. The bride was gown in crepe de chine over silk, with point
de terre and chiffon trimmings. The bridesmaid wore a gown of Paris
muslin. A reception was held after the ceremony, at which Mrs. Webber was assisted in receiving by W. W.
and H. A. Webber. Mr. and Mrs.
White will be at home after Nov. 15,
at Euclid View.

FOREST FIRE.

Said to be Raging in the Neighborhood of Pierz, Morrison County, Causing
Considerable Damage.

William Driver is in the city today
from Pierz, Morrison county, and
reports an extensive forest fire rag-
the St. Cloud Times. According to Mr. Driver, who has been living
about noon yesterday. It spread
rapidly and his house and barns were soon in ruins.

By prompt work he was able to save all his stock, consisting of cattle,
the exception of one porker which
his buildings all of his hay and win-
and was still burning when he left
strip four miles to the east of his
place and about the same distance to the south had been burned over.
There are a number of settlers living
in the neighborhood and Mr. Driver
feels certain that most of them have
lost their buildings and hay if not their stock. In his immediate vicinity 100 tons of hay was destroyed.
The fire is supposed to have been set
by hunters, who had stopped to cook
their noon day meal. The territory
now ablaze has been burned over once or twice since the Hinckley fire and the timber is all dead, and as dry as cinder.

KATRINE.

The lumber hauling from the mill
to Deerwood has commenced.

Mr. Chas. Konzit, of Minneapolis, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Archibald.

The young people will meet Friday evening to reorganize the Epworth League.

Master Harry and Dean Wilson, of
together they interviewed the partridges and squirrels.

While at L. H. Scofield's last Friday we sampled some honey from his
ness for honey, but a separated desire for bees.

Mr. Archibald Desant and family,
who have been living on the farm of
old Mr. Erath, have moved to Deer-
wood, and the old soldier is on guard
alone again.

thoroughfare" are posted at North Bay. As yet no toll gate has been established, and you can get to the postoffice or The Archibald by taking the cow path.

The lumber camp at South Bay is
being refitted. There is some uncut
pine to go in this winter that will require a small crew. Owing to the prevalence of smallpox lumber camps
are not a very desirable factor in a community.

The death of Rev. Archibald Speers,
as recorded in THE DISPATCH, brings
to many in this section kind remembrance of this faithful worker in Christ's vineyard. Some fourteen
years ago, with his little white ponies
he drove up to the door of our home,
the first to greet us here as a minister of the gospel. Year after year,
shadow, or in deep pine forest by the
of promise, and from his sowing
many a golden sheaf garnered in
awaited his coming.

PARTICULARLY SWEET CHILD.

Mrs. Berry in Frail Health and Some Fear is Entertained Regarding Her

The following account of the accidental killing of little Doris Berry, mention of which was made in THE DISPATCH a few days ago, appeared in the Davenport, Ia. Democrat:

"The victim was little Doris Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Berry, of 1216 Perry street. While riding her bicycle on an errand for her mother she came into accidental col-

MANY PEOPLE INJURED

THE TEMPLE THEATER AT LOUISVILLE THE SCENE OF A WILD PANIC.

CAUSED BY A CRY OF FIRE

Women and Children Rush for the Door and a Number Fall Out of the Gallery on to the Throng Below in Their Efforts to Escape—Crowd Literally Rolls Down the Long Flight of Stairs.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 23.—Hundreds of people attempted to rush out of the Temple theater during the afternoon because the cry of fire was raised when a little flame was seen about the polscope machine.

In the scramble scores of people were knocked down and 13 injured, 3 seriously. Of the latter one may die. A number of other persons were bruised or cut, but their injuries were slight. It is remarkable that many were not killed.

It was about 3:30 o'clock, just after the first act, and while the polscope was being gotten ready, that the little flash of flame came which caused the panic. Many women and children who mainly composed the audience made a rush for the door. The panic seized the gallery, and in a moment the occupants were plunging down the stairway in a heap or were taking the swifter method of climbing down in the auditorium proper. In their haste many fell, landing on those beneath. Several were badly hurt in this way. Meanwhile those who had retained their presence of mind, had gone to work to stop the mad rush. The ushers and theater attaches acted with great coolness. The band played and Charles T. Bates, a member of the stock company, danced. This had much effect in quieting those nearest the stage.

The great crush occurred where the steps come down from the gallery. Here the two crowds met and were packed into a space not large enough for half of them. All were trying with desperation to reach the street. The weaker were soon knocked down and trampled under foot. The crowd literally rolled down the long flight of stairs.

Every patrol wagon and ambulance in the city was required in hauling the more seriously injured to the hospitals, or their homes. There was no damage from the fire.

FURTHER TROUBLE UNLIKELY.

Indian Agent Jenkins Quells the Lower Brule Disturbance.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Special Agent Jenkins of the Indian bureau, who has been investigating the disturbance at the Lower Brule agency several weeks ago, when Indians forcibly rescued one of their number from the jail, reports that he has placed the ring-leaders in the affair in jail and that further trouble is unlikely.

Mr. Jenkins says that the trouble was caused by the Indians attempting to take children away from the agency boarding school in defiance of the regulations. The Indian rescued had taken his daughter away and refused to return her on notice from Agent Somers, who thereupon arrested him. The report finds that the agent and the agency physician and police acted entirely within their authority and commendably.

AT FINAL REST.

Remains of the Late Senator Davis Interred at Arlington.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The remains of the late Senator Cushman K. Davis of Minnesota arrived here during the day and were interred quietly at the Arlington national cemetery in a lot specially assigned for the purpose by the acting secretary of war. Mrs. Davis accompanied the remains from St. Paul, where they had been kept in a vault of the Oakland cemetery. The funeral party was met at the Baltimore and Ohio station by Sergeant-at-Arms Ramsdell and representatives of the quartermaster's department, who superintended the removal of the casket to Arlington. Senator Davis was a first lieutenant in the volunteer army during the Civil war and it was that fact that gave him the right of burial in a national cemetery.

NOT CONSIDERED CRITICAL.

Northrn Pacific Situation Discussed by Parties Interested.

New York, Oct. 23.—Important conferences were held by bankers interested in the adjustment of the Northern Pacific deal, but the problem has not as yet been solved. James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern, and members of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. met and discussed the matter until a late hour but at the conclusion it was announced that nothing definite had been accomplished. Members of the Harriman syndicate were also said to be in conference during the day. Both sides declared that the situation is not considered critical.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 23.—The Janesville and Southeastern Railway company has filed a deed with the secretary of state, transferring its line from Janesville to Libertyville, Ill., to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road. The consideration was $1,000,000.

STRIKE AT SOUTH CHICAGO.

Cranemen Walk Out of the Illinois Steel Works.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Trouble has broken out afresh at the Illinois Steel works in South Chicago. The crane-men, who handle the molten metal ladles, have gone out on strike, alleging that the company demanded that machinists work on repairs. A number of machinists also quit work. The trouble at the steel works is of long standing. The crane-men who struck are the only employees in the plant who favored the Amalgamated association and President Shaffer at the time of the great steel strike.

The men claim they have been persecuted ever since the general strike of the steel workers ended.

HAS A FAST COLOR.

Government Khaki Is Proof Against Sun, Washing and Perspiration.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The army is now in possession of a khaki cloth for uniforms which is proof against sun, washing and perspiration so far as color goes, according to a statement in the annual report of Acting Quartermaster General Kimball. But the cotton khaki dyed shirts have not proved a success and some shirts are being made for trial of woolen material. For tropical use the army blanket is now being made much lighter than the old standard. The white tents have gone for all time and the khaki dyed tentage is the rule in the army now. No more white tents will be purchased.

HE LEFT NO WILL.

Ex-Governor Pillsbury's Estate Is Worth About $5,000,000.

Minneapolis, Oct. 23.—No will was left by the late John S. Pillsbury, ex-governor of Minnesota. He was content to give as he lived to any institution or movement which he deemed worthy of aid and was also content to let the laws of Minnesota determine the final disposition of his estate. He said so in as many words. His fortune is a large one, many believe that it is the largest in Minneapolis. Some estimate that his estate is worth about $5,000,000, and some place it even higher.

SENT FOR A PRIEST.

Czolgosz Realizes That His Execution Is Fast Approaching.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Leon F. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, who is awaiting electrocution in the prison here during the week commencing next Monday, fully realizing that his death is now a question of a few days, has asked for spiritual consolation and during the afternoon received a visit from the Rev. T. Szadinski, a Polish priest of the Roman Catholic church.

Czolgosz' request for a priest of his own nationality was made known to Warden Mead in the morning. Father Szadinski, who is pastor of St. Stanislaus church, Rochester, was in the city attending the 40 hours' devotions of St. Alphonsus church and was asked to visit the prisoner. In the afternoon he went to the prison and remained there about an hour.

The interview between priest and prisoner proved very unsatisfactory to both. It took place in the condemned man's cell and the conversation was carried on in Polish. During the interview Czolgosz said that he had been baptized in the Roman Catholic faith in the Polish church in Detroit. He had abandoned the church early in life and had lost all faith in its teachings. Father Szadinski urged him to renounce his belief in anarchy and return to the faith of his early years. Czolgosz declared his inability to do so, and he was informed that unless he could, the consolation of the church would be denied him. The priest urged the condemned man to consider the matter carefully and told him that if at any time he decided to re-embrace the faith he would return from his home in Rochester and stay with him until the end.

Father Szadinski, before taking his departure, left with Czolgosz some Catholic literature printed in Polish, and also some emblems of the church. Czolgosz assured Father Szadinski that in case he determined to accept the offices of religion he would send for him, but he did not hold out much hope that he would renounce the doctrines of anarchy.

SHOT BY TURKISH GUARDS.

Five Macedonian Fugitives Killed Near the Bulgarian Frontier.

London, Oct. 23.—The Morning Leader publishes the following from Sofia:

"On the frontier near Grossbelovo five fugitives from Baniska, Macedonia—among them a brother of Mme. Tsilka, Miss Stone's companion—were shot dead by Turkish frontier guards, while endeavoring to cross into Bulgarian territory.

"United States Consul General Dickinson, believing that they were members of the American mission church, has demanded an official inquiry. Great brutality exists in the district between Baniska and the frontier. Turkish officials have arrested over 100 residents of Bulgarian nationality and subjected them to torture in order to wring from them information as to Miss Stone's whereabouts. Several of them died under torture.

"The Bulgarian authorities, likewise worried over the affair, are continually arresting fugitives from Macedonia, and this causes bad blood."

MME. TSILKA DEAD.

Reported That Miss Stone's Companion Is No More.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 23.—It is reported that Mme. Tsilka, the companion of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary captured by brigands, died recently in captivity.

Constantinople, Oct. 23.—Should no news be received during the next 48 hours from the missionaries who are seeking the captors of Miss Ellen M. Stone and her companion, Mme. K. S. Tsilka, more missionaries will be sent to assist in locating the brigand band. It is understood that the missionaries in the vicinity of where the brigands are supposed to be, expecting to receive a communication from them. It is proposed now that a search party shall be organized to penetrate to the brigands' retreat.

SENT FOR A PRIEST.

Czolgosz Realizes That His Execution Is Fast Approaching.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Leon F. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, who is awaiting electrocution in the prison here during the week commencing next Monday, fully realizing that his death is now a question of a few days, has asked for spiritual consolation and during the afternoon received a visit from the Rev. T. Szadinski, a Polish priest of the Roman Catholic church.

Czolgosz's request for a priest of his own nationality was made known to Warden Mead in the morning. Father Szadinski, who is pastor of St. Stanislaus church, Rochester, was in the city attending the 40 hours' devotions of St. Alphonsus church and was asked to visit the prisoner. In the afternoon he went to the prison and remained there about an hour.

The interview between priest and prisoner proved very unsatisfactory to both. It took place in the condemned man's cell and the conversation was carried on in Polish. During the interview Czolgosz said that he had been baptized in the Roman Catholic faith in the Polish church in Detroit. He had abandoned the church early in life and had lost all faith in its teachings. Father Szadinski urged him to renounce his belief in anarchy and return to the faith of his early years. Czolgosz declared his inability to do so, and he was informed that unless he could, the consolation of the church would be denied him. The priest urged the condemned man to consider the matter carefully and told him that if at any time he decided to re-embrace the faith he would return from his home in Rochester and stay with him until the end.

Father Szadinski, before taking his departure, left with Czolgosz some Catholic literature printed in Polish, and also some emblems of the church. Czolgosz assured Father Szadinski that in case he determined to accept the offices of religion he would send for him, but he did not hold out much hope that he would renounce the doctrines of anarchy.

SHOT BY TURKISH GUARDS.

Five Macedonian Fugitives Killed Near the Bulgarian Frontier.

London, Oct. 23.—The Morning Leader publishes the following from Sofia:

"On the frontier near Groselovo five fugitives from Baniska, Macedonia—among them a brother of Mme. Tsilka, Miss Stone's companion—were shot dead by Turkish frontier guards, while endeavoring to cross into Bulgarian territory.

"United States Consul General Dickinson, believing that they were members of the American mission church, has demanded an official inquiry. Great brutality exists in the district between Baniska and the frontier. Turkish officials have arrested over 100 residents of Bulgarian nationality and subjected them to torture in order to wring from them information as to Miss Stone's whereabouts. Several of them died under torture.

"The Bulgarian authorities, likewise worried over the affair, are continually arresting fugitives from Macedonia, and this causes bad blood."

MME. TSILKA DEAD.

Reported That Miss Stone's Companion Is No More.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 23.—It is reported that Mme. Tsilka, the companion of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary captured by brigands, died recently in captivity.

Constantinople, Oct. 23.—Should no news be received during the next 48 hours from the missionaries who are seeking the captors of Miss Ellen M. Stone and her companion, Mme. K. S. Tsilka, more missionaries will be sent to assist in locating the brigand band. It is understood that the missionaries have been waiting at places in the vicinity of where the brigands are supposed to be, expecting to receive a communication from them. It is proposed now that a search party shall be organized to penetrate to the brigands' retreat.
